150 Administration Building, MSU
(517) 353-5940
www.finaid.msu.edu

The College Work-Study (CWS) Program provides jobs for undergraduates and graduate students who qualify for financial aid. CWS lets you earn money to help pay your educational costs. Depending on your financial need, you are awarded a certain amount which you can earn during the year with on and off-campus employment. Since the government subsidizes the wages of work-study students, employers are usually eager to hire and are flexible about arranging working hours to meet the needs of the students.

If you work on campus, you will work for the University. If you work off campus, your employer will be a private non-profit organization or a local, State, or Federal public agency, and the work performed must be in the public interest.

Again, a variety of things must be taken into consideration when you accept a work-study award such as: the extra childcare you will be paying while working, the time away from your family and your studies, the cost of transportation to and from your job, etc. If you want a work-study job and have not been awarded College Work Study, inquire with the Office of Financial Aid.

Teaching / Graduate Assistantships

They are available in quarter time (10 hours/week), half-time (20 hours), and three-quarter time (30 hours) levels and can be awarded for teaching and/or research. Most assistantships are assigned for the academic year although some colleges assign assistants each semester. The receipt of an assistantship will affect your eligibility for other financial aid.
